How to Use This Chart

The curriculum chart lists for your information programs of study at the thirteen state university campuses in Illinois in which a student can major, minor or enroll as a preprofessional student. It also indicates where a student can go to complete his professional study.

The following questions and answers will help you in using the chart.

What is a major? (*)

A major is a field of study in which a student chooses to concentrate his college study. For example, a student may choose to major in accounting, or theatre, or sociology, or one of the other subjects listed on the curriculum chart. A major requires completing a specified number of college courses in a particular subject area. All students graduating from a four-year institution will do so with at least one major. (It is possible to have more than one major.) You will need to check with individual colleges to find out how many courses constitute a major in a particular field at that institution. By the way, a few majors may require more than the usual four years to complete. Check the catalogue of the particular institution you are planning to attend.

What is a minor? (■)

In many cases a student will declare both a major and a minor, in some cases both are required. A minor is a secondary field of study in which a student chooses to concentrate. The minor requires fewer college courses than the major. Usually a student will choose to minor in a subject area that is related in some way to his chosen major. Thus, students majoring in chemistry often will minor in mathematics. However, some courses of study allow a student to major in a given subject and to minor in something seemingly unrelated. Once again, you will need to check with the individual colleges to find out what minors are permitted with what majors and how many college courses are required for the minor.

What is a preprofessional program? (●)

A student intending to pursue professional fields of study (such as law, medicine, and dentistry) must first take college courses to prepare for the advanced study. These programs of study are called preprofessional programs and may last one, two, three, or four years. The ● on the chart identifies what preprofessional programs exist and where you can find them. For example, in pharmacy, under the category Health and Medical Professions, preprofessional programs are offered at EIU, NIU, SIU-C, SIU-E, UI-UC, UI-CC, and WIU. The ★ on the same line indicates colleges in the state at which a student can complete the professional study, namely UI-MC.

Are all subjects in which a student can major listed on the chart?

Almost. In some cases, especially in engineering, the chart may not list all of the majors available, but it does list the main categories. You will want to consult individual catalogues for a complete listing of specializations.

Does the fact that there is no listing in a particular subject at an institution mean that that school does not offer any course work in that subject?

No. Keep in mind that this is a listing of majors, minors, and preprofessional programs only, not a complete listing of course work. Again, check the institution's catalogue for a complete listing of courses available.

How do Governors State University and Sangamon State University differ from the other state universities?

These two institutions are called senior institutions and are only for upper division (juniors and seniors) and graduate students. The first two years of college are not offered.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AT STATE UNIVERSITIES

All residents of Illinois attending their state universities benefit from the lower tuition rates made possible by state support for higher education. In addition, three basic types of financial assistance may be available to you as a student attending a state university in Illinois: gift aid (scholarships and grants), loans, and part-time employment.

A student may receive several different types of financial assistance at the same time. For example, a student with financial need of $1,500 may be given a $350 scholarship, a $350 loan, and a part-time job through which he can earn the remaining $800. You need to file only one application form with the financial aid officer of the university you plan to attend, and he will assist you in preparing a "package" to help meet your needs.

A brief description of several awards available at all state universities in Illinois is provided below. You are encouraged to write to the financial aid officer of the university of your choice for a more complete description of awards offered at that institution.

NOTE: If you wish to apply to your state university for financial aid, you will also be expected to file an application with the Illinois State Scholarship Commission and to the federal government for a Basic Education Opportunity Grant (see below).

PRE-ENTRANCE TESTING

Each student applying for admission to any of the state universities in Illinois, with the exception of Governors State and Sangamon State, will be required to furnish scores on a test battery: ACT or SAT* as specified by the institution.

Once accepted, each university or field of study may require additional tests to meet the student's needs. An applicant should investigate carefully these requirements in the higher [illegible] and [illegible] procedures for the school of his choice. Complete information concerning these tests may be obtained from high school counselors or principals, or by writing directly to the office of admissions of the university of the applicant's choice.
